

Suggested Questions to Ask Your Doctor

In addition to questions you may have, the following is a list of some questions you may consider asking your doctor if you are considering breast reconstruction. Please feel free to download them, print them out, and take them with you to your next appointment.

- How will breast reconstruction impact my cancer treatment?
- What are all my options for breast reconstruction?
- Which reconstruction option is best for me, and why?
- How many surgeries and office visits will a breast reconstruction require?
- How long will my entire reconstruction take?
- What is the best result I can expect?
- Do you have before-and-after photos for different procedures that I can look at?
- What should I expect when I wake up after surgery?
- What will my recovery be like?
- How long will my recovery take?
- What are the potential risks, side effects and complications of each type of reconstruction?
- How many and what kind of procedures do you do a year?
- When will I be able to return to my normal routine? (go back to work, return to my normal physical activities, exercise, etc)
- What will my scars look like?
- If I'm unhappy with my results, what are my options?

Every patient is different and results may vary. Only a physician can determine the best treatment for you. Please ask your doctor to explain the benefits and risks to see if LifeCell™ products are right for you.

---

Important Information: Every patient is different and their reconstruction options and their results may vary. All depictions on the site are for illustration purposes only. Whether or not you have breast reconstruction is a decision you need to make in consultation with your physician. Only you and your physician can determine the best option for you. Please ask your doctor to explain the benefits and risk of various reconstruction options and whether they are right for you.

Copyright © 2010 LifeCell Corporation. All Rights Reserved. LifeCell™ and AlloDerm® are trademarks of LifeCell Corporation.